

shirt sleeves. Wanted people to know there was one church in city where mode of dress need exclude no one from worship.

Berlin.—Socialists won seat from Free Conservatives in bye-election in Belzig district of Potsdam.

Shanghai.—Northern troops entered city of Kiu-Kiang, in province of Kiang-Si, after refusing to obey order to disperse given by Vice President Li Yuan Hung. Fighting now going on.

Rome.—Numbers of Swiss Guards at Vatican have gone on strike because one of their number was punished for refusing patrol duty.

Berlin.—Paul Mistelsky sentenced to two weeks' imprisonment for advertising himself as professor of University of Chicago.

Mexico City.—Anti-American feeling here, which was fostered by several newspapers, has calmed down considerably.

Tulsa, Okla.—Charles Page, millionaire, has "adopted" 300 poor children and is educating them. Hopes to adopt 1,000 and will leave his money for their education when he dies.

Boston.—John Mason Little III, aged 3, will be youngest member of expedition that will sail into frozen north on Grenfall missionary ship George B. Cluett next Wednesday.

New York.—Southwest squall caused drowning of one at Seacliff, one at Jersey City, two at Coney Island, two in Hudson, one at Newark, one at New Drop and two at Norton's Point.

Cambridge, O.—Three killed, 4 fatally injured, 19 badly hurt, when B. & O. train crashed into interurban car in East Cambridge.

Brockton, Mass.—David Farnsworth, crippled poet, pardoned by Gov. Foss after being convicted of manslaughter for shooting chicken thief, is going to Chicago.

Portland, Eng.—Strongest fleet in world assembled in harbor today for annual war game. Twenty dreadnoughts, 16 standard battleships, 4 armored cruisers, and great fleet of light cruisers, submarines, torpedo boats, destroyers and auxiliaries of all sorts.

Washington.—Postmaster General Burleson has appointed Jessie A. Vachon official "elevator boy" in federal building, Bellingham, Wash.

Terre Haute.—James McGregor, millionaire mine owner of Salt Lake City, missing from home of sister, Mrs. Frank McKeen, since last Friday. Police will drag Wabash river.

Los Angeles.—John Hirsch, 17, gave himself up here, saying he was wanted in Wilmette, Ill., on statutory charge, and was sick of avoiding officers. Says he wants to marry Cora Richards, 16, of Wilmette.

New York.—Dr. Chas. J. Perry dead.

Cleveland, O.—Furious gale that swept over countryside caused drowning of boy and death of man at Port Clinton.

Boston.—Massachusetts Institute of Technology will spend $5,000 a year for five years to find out how far street railway can carry passenger with reasonable profit for a nickel.

Kenosha, Wis.—Sam Clement, wealthy Italian, called from his home by two men and shot. Although seriously wounded he refused to give any information as to his would-be murderers.

Saginaw, Mich.—Thomas Jackson, 14, living on North Paulina st., Chicago, found dead beside Pere Marquette tracks.

Berlin.—Leon Letort, French aviator, flew from Paris to Berlin in exactly nine hours.

London.—Viscountess Maidstone, formerly Margheretta Drexel of Philadelphia, gave birth to son today.

Greensburg, Pa.—T. B. Shanks, school superintendent, has filed suit for absolute divorce from Helen Louise Weybill, so his marriage to Miss Marie Reese, to whom he is engaged, may not be unreasonably delayed.